INTRODUCTION

The coronavirus pandemic has had a devastating impact on the lives of people all over the world. Here at home, the social and economic consequences have exposed various ways our country grapples with achieving its aspiration. Our economy is still highly dependent on income from fossil fuels at a time when the commercial value is nosediving. Our system of government still has too many discretionary spaces that allow maladministration and corruption to thrive. Essential infrastructure does not exist at the scale needed to support industry, nor encourage investment and innovation. Simultaneously, our population continues to grow exponentially, while human development indicators decline precipitously.

The advent of the COVID-19 pandemic has also exacerbated the issues raised above and altered the priorities of the House, as it seeks to ensure that government rises to the occasion of cushioning the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on citizens. Thus, in line with its mandate, the House has taken on the task of developing legislative interventions and approaches for optimal responsiveness in tackling the COVID-19 pandemic and preparing for other public health emergencies in the future. It is in this light, that the leadership and members of the 9th House of Representatives have updated and adopted the Legislative Agenda, which now reflects reprioritised legislative interventions geared towards responding to the new realities thrust upon us by the COVID-19 pandemic. However, the House is also committed to ensuring that this is not just a document, but also an instrument of accountability, by producing this document which articulates legislative priorities for the first year (2020-2021) of the updated Legislative Agenda. It also provides an Implementation and Monitoring Framework through which all stakeholders can track progress with implementation and hold the House accountable.

This Implementation and Monitoring Framework document outlines the specific goals and interventions the House proposes this year, and includes clearly defined timelines for implementation, along with the framework to ensure effective delivery. Both the Legislative Agenda and the accompanying Implementation and Monitoring Framework are easy to read and understand. They are public documents that will be available to all Nigerians, so that citizens can not only hold the 9th House of Representatives accountable, but can also identify areas for improvement, collaboration and cooperation in implementation.

Nation building in the era of COVID-19 cannot be done by one sector of society, one arm of government, or any single entity. It can only be done successfully when all arms of government, citizens and stakeholders come together in partnership to move the country forward. This document is therefore an invitation to all Nigerian citizens, federal and state governments, MDAs, civil society organisations, the private sector and international development partners to not only share our vision, but also to join us in delivering on 'Our Contract with Nigerians'.
